EARTHQUAKES.

Great Shocks Almost Always Followed by After Shocks.

Although seismologists have not yet succeeded in finding out any means of definitely predicting the occurrence of an earthquake, they are very hopeful of finally arriving at this desired goal, and already they can discern danger by the pulsations which are always gently agitating the surface of the earth. A sudden cessation of these heart beats is a danger signal, extreme stillness invariably preceding an earthquake, whereas constant tremors are a good sign.

A great earthquake is almost always followed by weaker ones, and when it is violent and destructive the number of minor shocks following it may amount to hundreds or even thousands and continue for several months or years.

The occurrence of after shocks is quite natural and necessary for the settling down into stable equilibrium of the disturbed tract at the origin of disturbance, each of these shocks removing an unstable or weak point underneath.

Further, as a very great shock would remove a correspondingly great underground instability it is probable that such a shock would not for a long time be followed by another of a magnitude comparable to its own in the same or a neighboring district.

When, however, the initial shock is not very great it may be followed by another like it, but even in this case the position of the origin of the second shock would usually be quite distinct from that of the first.—Wide World Magazine.

A CAMEL STORY.

Foiled In Its Revenge, the Animal Committed Suicide.

Some years ago it chanced that a valuable camel working in an old mill in Africa was severely beaten by its driver, who, perceiving that the camel had treasured up the injury and was only waiting a favorable opportunity for revenge, kept a strict watch upon the animal. Time passed away. The camel, perceiving that it was watched, was quiet and obedient, and the driver began to think that the beating was forgotten.

One night after a lapse of several months the man, who slept on a raised platform in the mill, while, as is customary, the camel was stalled in a corner, happening to remain awake, observed by the bright moonlight that when all was quiet the animal looked cautiously around, rose softly and, stealing over toward a spot where a bundle of clothes and a burnoose, thrown carelessly on the ground, resembled a sleeping figure, cast itself with violence upon them, rolling with all its weight and tearing them most viciously with its teeth.

Satisfied that its revenge was complete, the camel was returning to its corner when the driver sat up and spoke. At the sound of his voice and perceiving the mistake it had made the animal was so mortified at the failure and discovery of its scheme that it dashed its head against the wall and died on the spot.—Sheffield Telegraph.

Lavender.

How many of those who delight in the odor of fresh sweet lavender ever think how the plant came by its soothing name? Back he must go in imagination to the clean old Romans and their cult of the bath. Lavender found high favor with them to perfume their baths, and it was they who called it lavandula, the root of the name being the Latin lavare—to wash. In olden days, too, lavender leaves were an important ingredient in the making of precious spikenard ointment. Although we regard lavender as so peculiarly English a plant, owing to its extensive cultivation in the home counties and its associations with our English homes and gardens, it was not, as a matter of fact, introduced to this country until the sixteenth century, when it came from France with the Huguenot settlers. The Romans did not apparently bring it to us when they gave us our fine roads.—Westminster Gazette.

"An Old Sheep."

A Bengali clerk who had been transferred at his own request from my office to another government office in Calcutta was anxious to return and wrote to me personally on the subject. Although not a Christian himself, he was evidently acquainted with the familiar lines of Bonar's hymn:

I was a wandering sheep,
I did not love the fold.

This is how he applied them to his own case. "It is true I have wandered from the fold—that is, the director general's office—but I trust that your honor will be merciful and receive back an old sheep."—"Stray Stories From India," by Sir Arthur Fanshawe, in Blackwood's Magazine.

A Frank Woman.

A woman gave another woman her photograph, and the recipient, instead of saying, "I will treasure it always," refused to accept it. "It means only one more thing to be dusted," she said. "If I have it out on the table it becomes a nuisance, and if I put it out of sight you will be offended. Moreover, every day that passes it will become a little more old fashioned and a little more of a caricature. I won't have it."—Atchison Globe.

Much Rather.

"She says she'd rather waltz than eat."

"Well, she'll find plenty of men who would rather sign a dance program than a dinner check."—Exchange.

Contentment gives a crown where fortune hath denied it.—Ford.

Willing to Entertain Her.

My entrance upon my career as a charity visitor was as a volunteer. I arrayed myself for my first attempt with misgiving in my heart. I was so afraid of my reception. I found my first address on the third floor of a rear tenement, stumbled up the dark stairs and timidly knocked at the door. It was opened instantly by a small boy who peered at me curiously.

"Is—is your mother in?" I inquired.

"No'm," was the prompt reply. "She's gone to see the doctor. But you can come in."

He held the door hospitably open, and I stepped across the threshold and entered. I selected a chair and sat down. The small boy wriggled into a chair opposite.

"I have fits," he announced, with importance.

"Wha-at?" I stammered.

"I have 'em often," he went on eagerly, "fits—real fits. I may have one any time. I might have one right now."

But I was already in the hall.

"You won't stay?" he shouted after me aggrievedly. "She'll be right back."

But a very much upset volunteer visitor was already out of hearing.—New York Herald.

A Long Dive.

"A circus came to a little town in Tennessee," said Colonel Robert M. Gates in the Saturday Evening Post, "and one of the attractions was a high diver, a chap who dove from the top of the tent into a shallow tank, which is a feat common enough, but which created a deal of talk in that locality.

"The wiseacres were talking about it at the store. Many of them thought it could not be done without killing the diver, but one old man insisted that it was perfectly feasible.

"'What do you know about diving?' he was asked.

"'Waal,' he replied, 'nothin' in partickler about that kind of divin', but I used to have a cousin who was the longest diver ye ever see.'

"'Longest diver?' scoffed the other sitters. 'Where'd he dive?'

"'Onct,' replied the old man, 'he bet a thousand dollars he could dive from Liverpool to New York.'

"'Did he do it?'

"'Nop, not that time. Ye see, he kinder miscalculated an' come up in Denver.'"

The Captain's Regret.

"Some years ago," said a military man, "there was a certain German private soldier named Andree. This was a short time after Aeronaut Andree's sensational departure for the north pole in his airship. Well, the kaiser, reviewing some troops one day, asked a number of men their names, and Andree was among this number. The kaiser smiled at him good humoredly.

"'So your name is Andree, eh?' the kaiser said. 'Do you know you've got a very famous namesake?'

"'Yes, your majesty,' the soldier answered.

"'And who told you that?' said the kaiser.

"'My captain, your majesty,' said the soldier.

"'Aha, your captain, eh? And what did your captain tell you about Andree?'

"'He said, your majesty, that he only wished Andree had taken me with him!'"

The Broom at the Masthead.

There still exists a very old custom among seamen of displaying a broom at the masthead of ships intended to be sold to indicate that they are to be "swept away." The custom originated with the famous Dutch admiral Tromp, who when he appeared off the English coast hoisted a broom to show his intention of sweeping the English fleet from the sea. The English admiral, replying to this impertinent signal, immediately hoisted a horsewhip to the masthead of his ship to show the arrogant Dutchman that he meant to give him a drubbing. For this reason a pennant is oftentimes dubbed "the horsewhip" by seafaring men. Sea lore, of course, is full of symbolism, and the broom is only one of many signs used that have a metaphorical meaning.—London Globe.

Perversity.

"One peculiarity of melancholia," said a specialist, "is that the victim of it actually enjoys the despondency and often doesn't want to be cured. I once told a young woman who had this disease that she must be careful of her digestion and eat nothing fried. After that she tried to eat only fried food. Not only did she insist on having her potatoes and meat fried, but didn't want to eat bread unless it had been fried in a lot of grease."—New York Tribune.

Title Insurance.

Heiress—Do you examine titles, Mr. Lawyer? Lawyer—I do, ma'am. Heiress—Well, this is my fiasco, Lord Preserveus. I'd like you to examine his title before we get married. I'd hate to get stung.—Judge.

Repartee.

"Father," said twelve year old Mabel, looking up from her book. "What is repartee?"

"Back talk," answered father, "but so smart that you wish you'd said it yourself."

The Roof Garden.

Hilda—But what is the difference between a roof garden and any other garden? Harry—Well, on a roof garden the daisies bloom at night.—Chicago News.

An Ocean.

Teacher—What is an ocean? Johnny—A body of water necessitating battleships.—New York Sun.

QUEER ANIMALS.

The Harpy Eagle, the Aye-aye and the Tasmania Devil.

The world has been so thoroughly explored that one might imagine it impossible that any noteworthy species of mammal or bird could still remain unknown. Yet every now and then something new turns up. For example, it was not so very long ago that a first acquaintance was made with the harpy eagle, a fowl native to the region of the Amazon, which feeds chiefly on monkeys. Another curiosity not long known is the aye-aye of Madagascar, a mammal which has one finger of each hand most curiously skeletonized and elongated for the purpose of dragging from their burrows the earthworms on which it feeds. As is well known, it is from Australia and New Zealand that come the flightless birds, some of which readily breed in captivity.

The fur seal rebels in captivity. The seals which one sees captive and which do such intelligent tricks are hair seals, belonging to quite a different species. So opposed is the fur seal to the very notion of deprivation of liberty that it will invariably starve itself to death rather than submit to such a condition. Likewise it is with the Tasmanian devil, a queer little marsupial about two feet long, somewhat resembling in appearance a baby bear, which is found only in Tasmania, a large island formerly known as Van Diemen's Land, to the south of Australia. It is almost incredibly ferocious, preying upon the sheep and poultry of the farmers, and never yet, though captured in earliest infancy, has it responded to kindness by manifesting an amiable disposition.—Philadelphia Ledger.

TALL AFRICAN GRASS.

Beautiful Scenes at Night on the Veldt When Fire Spreads.

Unlike a good deal of South Africa, Rhodesia is largely wooded. In some places the forests are of value, but a large proportion is not valued for its timber. The grass in this part of Africa grows to a phenomenal height in the valleys, and especially in the valleys of the Sabi and Zambezi rivers it reaches its greatest height. To say that the grass is often twelve feet high is no exaggeration. Naturally it is very easy to lose one's way in this grass if one is unfortunate enough to stray from the beaten track. It is the custom there to burn this grass off each year when it gets dry. This is usually in August and September or even in October. Fires burn for miles, and as the country is largely a wilderness little damage is done by this method of destroying the grass. It is a beautiful sight at night in the fire season to see the hills for miles around encircled with flames.

After the grass has been burned the rainy season usually begins, and it is then that the country is at its prettiest. The grass is then green, and the foliage on the trees is beautiful. The old leaves drop off gradually, and the new ones take their place before the trees are bare. The new leaves are of all shades of the rainbow, and it is much like the fall scenery in this country when the dead leaves are falling from the trees. Waterfalls are numerous in the mountains, and there are many of great height, although the rivers are usually small in volume.—Springfield Republican.

The Winze.

The superintendent of a western mine in driving a tunnel struck a body of ore. The vein was vertical and had a sharp dip. To develop it and get ready to mine the ore it was necessary to put down a winze—that is to say, to sink a shaft, in this instance an incline.

Elated over the discovery, he telegraphed the board in the east that he had struck rich shipping ore and received the laconic reply to begin shipping at once.

He wired that he could not ship any ore until he had a winze on the vein.

"How much will a winze cost?" was the telegraphic query.

"One thousand dollars," he replied promptly.

The next query floored him. It read, "Can't you buy a secondhand winze cheaper?"—New York Post.

A Joke of Mark Twain's.

Probably few people are aware that the theatrical godfather of that famous actor Mr. William Gillette was Mark Twain, who was a fellow townsman and a friend of his father. Mark Twain in referring to the matter said that when he used his influence to get young Gillette on the stage he thought he was playing a great joke on the management, for he did not think Gillette had the slightest aptitude for acting. But it turned out to be no joke after all. "I don't know," said Mark Twain, "which I like better—having Gillette make a tremendous success or seeing one of my jokes go wrong."

Careful Sandy.

Meenister—And why didn't ye come to the kirk last Sawbath? Sandy—I had nowt but a shillin' in my claes. That's ower muckle siller to pit in th' contribution box all at ain time.—London Tit-Bits.

Mistaken.

"He says he's your friend for life; says you lent him $50."

"So I did. But he's not my friend for life. I propose to ask him for it next pay day."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

His Role.

"That man made an immense fortune out of a simple little invention."

"Indeed! What did he invent?"

"Invent? Nothing, you dub! He was the promoter!"—Cleveland Leader.

A Thanksgiving.

Think not that only shattered tiles or crumbling clay
Are lifted with the Mission's walls,
There is more than concrete rise when duty calls ;
On every ernest helper blessing falls.
The sheltered swallow chirps in secure eaves,
While grasses wave and closes to its ancient friend
The quaint old cactus cleaves.
Proudly a Mission lifts its head ;
Thanks to the One above !
Sentiment may sleep but is not dead.

San Francisco is now said to be the cleanest city in America. It ought to be white after the Blue-ing it got.

FEDERATION OF WOMENS' CLUBS.

Adjourns After a Eour Days Session in San Jose.

The eighth annual convention of the San Francisco District of the California Federation of Womens' Clubs closed at San Jose November 12th, having been most successful both in its program and attendance. The headquarters were at the Hotel Vendome, and the beautiful meeting room was made doubly attractive by a fine art display. The convention opened on Wednesday with the District President, Mrs. M. V. Grimes, of Pacific Grove, in the chair. The first morning's program consisted of addresses of welcome, response by Mrs. Grimes and greetings by Mrs. Jas. B. Hume, the State President. These were followed by a council of Presidents, which Mrs. Hume led, giving the delagates much valuable information for their home clubs.

The afternoon session was taken up with a conference on civics with Mrs. E. L. Baldwin of San Francisco as leader. All sorts of civic work were discussed and fifteen clubs reported what they had accomplished in that line during the last year. Special stress was laid on the work in connection with Juvenile Courts and the need of more detention homes was called to the attention of the clubs. On Wednesday evening the ladies were entertained at a most delightful reception.

Two hours on Thursday morning were devoted to the discussion of the work that Study Clubs are doing. Mrs. Coburn of San Mateo led in this, and spoke forcibly on the need of study especially in the home. Mrs. Elizabeth L. Watson gave a beautiful talk on "Social Purity." She was so eloquent, so earnest in her plea for better social conditions that many were moved to tears.

The Chamber of Commerce had the ladies as their guests on Thursday afternoon and took them on a very enjoyable trip to Alum Rock Park.

The evening was given over to music, an address by Dr. Wm. Gurth of the University of the Pacific and a debate bewteen the ladies of the Study and Civic Clubs.

After the routine business on Friday, reports were read from all the San Francisco Clubs, telling of much good work done by them from the placing of Mission Bell Sign Posts to the care of the needy and sick.

The Civil Service and Household Economics took charge of Friday afternoon's session, under the leadership of Mrs. Osborne and Mrs. M. W. Knapp, respectively. Mrs. Osborne introduced Mr. E. R. Zion of San Francisco who told of the origin of the Civil Service and of the Civil Service Reform. Mrs. Knapp spoke of the necessity of the study of all things pertaining to the home and Dr. Knapp gave a talk on simple medical remedies of which every one should know.

The convention then closed with hearty thanks to all who helped to make it a success.

The following officers were chosen for the year 1910:

President, Mrs. A. P. Black, San Francisco; Vice President, Mrs. J. H. Doane, San Mateo; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Clinton Folger, Mill Valley; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. F. H. Jones, San Francisco; Treasurer, Mrs. Richmond Wheeler, Salinas; Auditor, Mrs. Geo. Reardon, Burlingame; For the State Convention: Nominating Committee, Mrs. H. L. Seager, San Francisco; Credential Committee, Mrs. W. C. Kennedy, San Jose.

Mrs. A. H. Coburn of Mayfield was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Miss Cavanaugh, resigned.

Doris M. Clewe,
San Francisco District Chairman of Press.

Relic of the Kenwood Boom.

In those good old boom days of El Verano and Kenwood when the people bought lots and acre tracts from other people without looking into the title of the land, Mr. and Mrs. B. Davidson became the "owners" of 160 acres of land in the Griswold tract at Kenwood. Now at this late day they are bringing suit to quiet title to their holding. Last Saturday action was commenced in the Superior Court of this county by the Davidsons' against Annie E. Griswold, executrix of the estate of the late N. W. Grsewold, Jas. S. Pieratt, the German Savings and Loan Society, the county of Sonoma and other defendants. Walter N. Robinson, the attorney of San Francisco, represents the plaintiffs and he has taken this course to straighten out the title to the property.

at the office of the County Clerk of said Sonoma county, who is ex-officio Clerk of this Board, and which said office is situated in Santa Rosa, Sonoma county, California, in the City of Santa Rosa in said county.

The construction of said work is to be commenced in good faith within not more than four (4) months from the date of granting of the franchise, and shall be completed within not more than three (3) years thereafter, and if not so commenced and completed within such times, respectfully, said franchise, right, privilege and permission shall be forfeited ; provided that for good cause shown the Board of Supervisors of said County of Sonoma may by resolution extend the time for completion of said work not exceeding three (3) months.

The successful bidder and grantee of said franchise, right, privilege and permission, his heirs and assigns, must, during the life of said franchise, pay to said County of Sonoma two (2) per cent of the gross annual receipts arising from the use, operation and possession of said franchise ; provided, however, that no percentage shall be paid for the first five years succeeding the date of said franchise, but thereafter such percentage shall be payable annually, and in the event that said payment is not made, said franchise shall be forfeited. At the end of the sixth year from the date of granting of said franchise, and at the end of each year thereafter the person, firm or corporation then owning or holding said franchise must make and file with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of said county a sworn statement of the gross receipts arising from the use, operation and possession of said franchise for the year then ending, and if a corporation then owns the franchise, the Secretary of such corporation is hereby designated as the officer who shall make such sworn statement on behalf of such corporation.

That it is proposed to grant said franchise, right, privilege and permission in accordance with the terms of an ordinance marked "Exhibit A" and made a part of the resolution authorizing the sale of the said franchise, and directing notice thereof to be given by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, adopted on the 6th day of November, 1909, and now on file with the Clerk of said Board, to which resolution and order reference is hereby made for further particulars

That said bids are to be opened on the

on said day, and that then and there said franchise will be struck off, sold and awarded to the person, firm or corporation who shall make the highest cash bid therefor ; provided only that at the time of opening of said bids, any responsible person, firm or corporation present or represented may bid for said franchise or privilege, a sum not not less than ten (10) per cent above the highest sealed bid therefor, and said bid so made may be raised not less than ten (10) per cent by any other responsible bidder, and said bidding may so continue until finally said franchise shall be struck off, sold and awarded by said Board of Supervisors to the highest bidder therefor in gold coin of the United States. Each sealed bid shall be accompanied with cash or a certified check payable to the Treasurer of said County of Sonoma for the full amount of said bid, and no sealed bid shall be considered unless such cash or check is enclosed therewith, and the successful bidder shall deposit at least ten (10) per cent of the amount of his bid with the Clerk of said county before the franchise shall be struck off to him. And, if he shall fail to make such deposit immediately, then and in that case his bid shall not be received and shall be considered as void, and the said franchise shall then and there be again offered for sale to the bidder who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, subject to the same conditions as to deposit as above mentioned. Said procedure shall be had until said franchise is struck off, sold and awarded to a bidder who shall make the necessary deposit of at least ten (10) per cent of the amount of his bid therefor, as herein provided. Said successful bidder shall deposit with the Clerk of the said County of Sonoma within twenty-four hours of the acceptance of his bid, the remaining ninety (90) per cent of the amount thereof, and in case he or it should fail to do so, then the said deposit theretofore made shall be forfeited, and the award of said franchise shall be void and the said franchise shall then and there by said governing Board be again offered for sale to the highest bidder therefor, in the same manner and under the same restrictions, as hereinbefore provided, and in case said bidder shall fail to deposit with the Clerk of said county the remaining ninety [90] per cent of his bid within twenty-four hours after its acceptance, the award to him of said franchise will be set aside, and the deposit theretofore made by him shall be forfeited, and no further proceedings for a sale of said franchise shall be had, unless the same shall be re-advertised, and again offered for sale in the manner hereinbefore provided.

The successful bidder for said franchise and privilege must within five [5] days after such franchise is awarded to him, file a bond running to said County of Sonoma, with at least two good and sufficient sureties to be approved by said Board of supervisors, in the penal sum of One Thousand Dollars [$1,000.00], conditioned that such bidder shall well and truly observe, fulfill and perform each and every term and condition of such franchise, and that in case of any breach of condition of such bond, the whole amount of said penal sum shall be taken and deemed to be liquidated damages, and shall be recoverable from the principal and sureties upon said bond. That upon the filing and approval of said bond, the said franchise shall by said Board of Supervisors be granted by ordinance to the person, firm or corporation to whom it has been struck off, sold or awarded, and in case that said bond shall not be so filed, the award of said franchise shall be set aside, and any money paid therefor shall be forfeited, and said franchise shall, in the discretion of said Board of Supervisors be readvertised and again offered for sale in the same manner and under the same restrictions as hereinbefore provided.

JUBILEE SINGERS.

An Evening With a Company of Famous Colored Musicians.

On Monday evening, November 29th, the Sonoma Entertainment Bureau will present the first number in the course of five entertainments to be given during the winter. Much interest is being manifested in this concert, as it affords an opportunity to hear some of the world-famous colored songsters at a very moderate cost, and a large audience is assured. The subscription list and tickets are in the hands of Mr. Simmons at the Drug Store, where additional season tickets may be procured and reservations made for the entire course.

The Robert Selman Stock Co. Draws Crowded Houses.

The theatre-loving people of this city and vicinity were again given three enjoyable performances in Union Hall this week by the Robert Selman Stock Co. This excellent theatrical troupe has never yet failed to draw crowded houses in Sonoma, and their coming here this week was no exception to the rule.

Mr. and Mrs. Selman are high-class artists and the same may be said of their support without an exception and that is why our very best people turn out to greet them.

The coming of the Selmans to Sonoma is always looked forward to with pleasure by our people and as entertainers par excellence they have become a fixture to the town and valley.

Judgment for Plaintiff.

Judge Denny decided the civil suit of Resetti vs. Danieli on Friday last week. The suit came up before him on appeal from Justice of the Peace Small's court in this place. The suit involved the recovery of some personal effects valued at $145. The lower court decided the suit in favor of Mr. Danieli, and the plaintiff appealed to the Superior Court.

The suit was a complicated one and Judge Denny, after listening to the testimony, reversed the lower court in the sum of $100 and costs of suit.

The decision of Judge Denny was a surprise to Mr. Danieli's many friends in this valley, who while attaching no blame to his honor, are satisfied that the decisions of our courts in many instances may be legal in the cold eyes of the law but are often unjust.

Death of Ex-Supervisor T. C Putnam.

T. C. Putnam, ex-Supervisor of this district, who was succeeded by Blair Hart nine years ago, died at his home near Petaluma on Friday of last week. The deceased was a native of Nova Scotia and aged 71 years.

EX-SUPERVISOR BUTTON IN COURT.

He is Being Defended by Hon. T. J. Geary, Who Interposes a Demurrer to Indictment.

Ex-Supervisor I. J. Button, who was recently indicted by the "gum shoe" Grand Jury just before it was discharged from further service, was arraigned before Judge Seawell on Wednesday and was admitted to bail in the sum of $2500. The sureties on the bond are ex-Consul to Aukland John D. Connolly, C. C. Belden and Thos. L. Hehir.

Hon. Thos. J. Geary appeared for the defendant, who is accused by the Grand Jury of presenting an alleged fraudulent claim of $90 against the county for lumber used by one of his road overseers in his district several years ago.

Mr. Button, who is one of the county's most prominent citizens, has entered a plea of not guilty to the charge and has no fear of a complete vindication.

The case against Mr. Button was resumed Thursday afternoon before Judge Seawell, and lawyer Geary interposed a demurrer to the indictment.

Attorney Geary contended that the real facts of the indictment disclosed that there could be no chance of conviction of the offense charged in the indictment. He claimed that no crime was committed when a claim, even though it be fraudulent, was presented to a board or official who had no authority to allow or pay the same. The attorney urged that no supervisor could have any contractural relations with the Board of Supervisors, and that as a member of the Board of Supervisors at the time the alleged fraudulent claim was presented, Button's action was a nullity as to the illegal acts. In other words, no claim presented by a member of the Board of Supervisors could be allowed by the Board of Supervisors.

District Attorney Lea replied to the argument of Attorney Geary on the demurrer. He said that courts would take judicial knowledge of the fact that there was a Board of Supervisors, but not of the individuals who constituted that board. He claimed the question of party was one of fact.

District Attorney Lea argued that the indictment did not charge Button with having pressed a claim of his own, and that he was only bound by what the indictment specified—the presentation of a fraudulent claim, and not the collection of moneys on the same. It will be remembered the bill presented was that of a lumber company, and it was presented by Button, as was the custom of the Board of Supervisors at that time.

The arguments were completed at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon and Judge Seawell stated he would probably render a decision on the demurrer next Monday.

Judgment of Dismissal.

As stated in these columns last week there has been an amicable settlement of the divorce suit instituted by Mrs. Rose Happe against her husband Tony Happe. In the Superior Court last Wednesday, a judgment of dismissal of the suit was filed. The parties reside here and have decided to let by-gones be by-gones. H. P. Mathewson was the attorney for the defendant and Robert A. Poppe and Wm. A. Cowen represented the plaintiff.

DIED AND BURIED AS AN UNKNOWN

Well-Known Young Man Dies in Sacramento and Body is Consigned to Potter's Field and then Exhumed.

Dominic Equi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Equi of Vineburg, died very suddenly in Sacramento last Saturday of typhoid fever.

The young man, who had but recently left his home here to seek employment in Sacramento among strangers, was stricken suddenly with the deadly disease and becoming delirious the attendants at the hospital where he had been taken for treatment were unable to to find out whom he was or where he came from.

Young Equi was then treated as an unknown and when he died he was given a hasty burial at the expense of Sacramento county. A closer inspection of the young man's effects after he had been consigned to the Potter's field revealed his identity. The authorities then communicated with relatives in Vineburg.

The remains were then disinterred and shipped to the Vineburg home of deceased last Tuesday for interment in the Catholic cemetery in this place. The funeral took place Thursday from St. Francis Church.

Dominic Equi was well-known in this valley, where he had resided for a number of years. He was a native of San Francisco and aged 26 years.

R. J. Dowdall has just returned from a several week's sojourn at Dillon's Beach and Tomales. Joe reports hunting and fishing as being very good in that locality.

Our people were glad to see Emile Cornelius' smiling face on the drivers seat of Joe Ryan's Sonoma-El Verano bus, after a vacation of several days this week.

Claude J. Kirkman and Miss Elizabeth Perry of this place went to Santa Rosa Tuesday and secured a marriage license. The latter gave her age as 21 and the former 24.

Harry Lord, Sonoma's expert tailor caught several large bass in the vicinity of Wingo last Saturday. The largest tipped the scales at 30 pounds. With the instinct of the true sportsmen Harry remembered many of his friends in this place with a share of his catch.

It has been reported that several of the young residents of this burg have been accused of "hoss" stealing and also of being admirers and followers of Carrie Nation. Last Monday morning one of our townsmen discovered that one of his fastest trotters had mysteriously disappeared. Becoming very much excited over the theft of the animal the owner immediately formed an armed posse and started out to run down the "hoss" thieves and recover the animal. After a hot pursuit lasting several hours the thoroughbred was found grazing contentedly alongside the county road in the vicinity of Baxterville. The "hoss" thieves, however, were non est, and just what became of them has not as yet been figured out, as the local authorities up to present writing had not gained a single clew. This incident reminds one of the time the fellow was accused of stealing a whole bridge, by crackey.

The masquerade ball to be given in Union Hall on Thanksgiving eve by the members of the Sonoma Driving Club, gives promise of being largely attended by the party going people of the valley. The club members and their ladies will make a large gathering alone, as they intend to turn out in a body. The Sonoma Driving Club has a membership of forty composed of leading citizens of town and valley and as all are interested in making the mask ball a success, it goes without saying that it will be the social event of the season.

Great Real Estate Offering.

One of the finest subdivisions ever put upon the market here is that of the Clements and Baker tract located on the east side of Broadway just outside the incorporated limits of Sonoma. It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who nasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

Does Not Stimulate

Ayer's Sarsaparilla does not stimulate. It does not make you feel better one day, then as bad as ever the next. It is not a strong drink. No reaction after you stop using it. There is not a drop of alcohol in it. You have the steady, even gain that comes from a strong tonic and alterative. We wish you would ask your doctor about this. He knows. Trust him. Do as he says. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

What are Ayer's Pills? Liver Pills. How long have they been sold? Nearly sixty years. Do doctors recommend them? Ask your own doctor and find out.

THE TAX ON SALT.

One of the Things That Started the French Revolution.

Before the French revolution the government established warehouses at which the inhabitants were compelled to purchase their stores of salt. These warehouses were numerous in some provinces and few in others; but, whether sufficient or insufficient for the needs of the population, they were often situated at a considerable distance from the towns and villages, whose inhabitants had to trudge miles along bad roads to buy their salt.

But this was not all. It was prescribed by law that the head of every family must lay in his stock of salt not at such times as might suit his own convenience, but on one stated day in the year. Should he fail in this observance he was fined, and he was also fined if he purchased a smaller quantity than the law prescribed.

His hardships did not stop even there. On making his annual purchase he had to state the different purposes for which he intended to use the salt during the ensuing year, and in the event of his being discovered salting his soup instead of his pork according to his statement or his pork instead of his soup on the day he had named he was also liable to a fine. His kitchen was never secure from the intrusion of the inspecting officer, and woe to the housewife who was detected in any petty infraction of this law.

WONDERFUL ROCK GARDEN.

Englishman Has a Three Acre Reproduction of the Matterhorn.

The largest rock garden in England is that of Sir Frank Crisp at Friar Park, Henley. It is a faithful reproduction of the Matterhorn on a scale of about three acres. Seven thousand tons of limestone were brought from Yorkshire to make it.

The snow capped peak is represented by quartz. Below it are thousands upon thousands of alpine flowers growing in pockets between the rocks and filling every chink in the trails that ascend the mountain. There must be 200 different species in bloom at once.

At the base of the mountain, says Country Life In America, is a miniature Swiss chalet, where one may sit and enjoy the scene, comparing all the main features with a little bronze model of the Matterhorn which Sir Frank had made for the entertainment of his guests. A brook courses down the mountain side, and just before it reaches the chalet it forms a pretty cascade and then spreads out at your feet into a miniature lake decorated with pygmy water lilies and richly margined with pinks, primroses, gentians and other alpine flowers.

A Good Laugh Is Good For the Health.

Look at the laugh in whatsoever light you will, whether you see it as the deliverer from the bondage to outgrown notions; a schoolmaster with the sharp switch of ridicule to teach us manners; an apostle of democracy, proclaiming that we are all of the same clay, made of it and to return to it, but every lump of it holding some sparkle of the divine fire, and woe betide the man that tries to make us think that he is of different stuff! Look at the laugh, I say, in any light you choose, and you will see that it is not so much the downfall and confusion of the laughed at that makes us happy, that joggles our waistbands and sends the ha-ha spouting out, that pumps the blood along the sluggish veins, massaging the interior works and replacing the shopworn stock of air with a new consignment, as it is the sudden, sharp, intense realization of our personal well being.—Eugene Wood, in Success Magazine.

Harlem In New York.

In an early charter of what is now New York occurs the name of Lancaster. That is what Harlem used to be called. It comprised the territory on Manhattan Island north of a line drawn from the foot of East Seventy-fourth street to the foot of Manhattan street. The real Harlem village was a settlement collected within a radius of a quarter of a mile from One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street and Third avenue. Today the name Harlem is applied to the whole territory north of One Hundred and Tenth street, east and west. After the name Lancaster was eliminated the village was called Nieuw Haarlaem.—New York Press.

New Kind of Setter.

Little Oscar, aged five, had a dog which was almost always to be found behind the stove in the kitchen. Oscar once visited at a house where there were two fine dogs. The master of the house told him that they were Irish setters. The little fellow, who was very fond of his pet, answered quickly, "Mine is a kitchen setter."—Delineator.

Better Than Ever.

Mary Backstoop—Did he tell you life with him would be one grand, sweet song? Maudie Sidestreet—No. He said it would be one grand, beveled, sweet toned, silver coated, indestructible phonograph record.—Puck.

Getting On.

Father—And how are you getting on at school, Johnny? Johnny—Oh, I have learned to say "Thank you" and "If you please" in French. Father—That's more than you ever learned in English.

Not Quite a Sponge.

Percy—Skitts is a sponge—a perfect sponge.

"Oh, no! When a sponge absorbs anything, by squeezing it you can get it again."—Detroit Free Press.

Self is the first object of charity.—Latin Proverb.

A Prompt Reply.

A temperance lecturer was describing to his audience how his life had been influenced by total abstinence.

"You know," he said, "that I am now head of my business. Four years ago there were two men in our office who held positions above mine. One was dismissed through drunkenness, the other was led into crime and is now in prison, and all through that evil drink, the invention of the wicked! Now, what I ask is," he cried, "what has raised me to my present high position?"

"Drink!" was the unexpected reply he received from a member of his audience.

Wrongly Placed.

It is astonishing sometimes how unconsciously careless we are of the feelings of the person to whom we are talking. A young guardsman told me the other day that a friend of his went with him to consult his lawyer. The solicitor, a shrewd looking and kindly old gentleman, was listening to an irate explanation of how his clerk had failed to do something that had been expected of him. "Yes, you are quite right, it was his fault," said the solicitor.

"But why are these confounded lawyers' clerks so stupid?" asked the angry soldier.

"I do not know, my dear sir," replied the solicitor kindly, "but would you mind alluding to them as 'lawyers' confounded clerks?'"—London M. A. P.
